

CALL FOR BOOK CHAPTERS

Dear Colleague,

I am pleased to serve as Guest Editor for Cambridge Scholars Publishing, and am pulling together an Edited Collection to be entitled:

Analysing Health Discourse in Digital Environments

I would like to invite you to consider submitting one or more chapters.

The abstract/call for the Collection is here:

This collection seeks to keep pace of the changing nature of health discourse in different digital environments. It intends to offer sustained discourse analyses of a number of interactions generated through the affordances and constraints of these new social contexts, which are affecting health communication in subtle and profound ways.

Anna Franca Plastina is Associate Professor of English Language and Linguistics at the Department of Pharmacy, Health and Nutritional Sciences of the University of Calabria, Italy. Her research focus is mainly on specialised discourse in computer-mediated, LSP and multilingual contexts with interests in genre, multimodal, psycholinguistic, and corpus-assisted critical discourse analyses. She has published extensively in these research areas at both national and international levels.

A Chapter should normally be no longer than 6000 words, and should be original and previously unpublished. If the work has already been published (as a journal article, or in conference proceedings, for example), the Publisher will require evidence that permission to be re-published has been granted.

To see the Call on the Publisher's website, please click here:

<http://www.cambridgescholars.com/t/EditedCollectionsHealthSciences> where you can download and complete a submission form.

Please submit chapter proposals directly to Rebecca Gladders, Senior Commissioning Editor at rebecca.gladders@cambridgescholars.com.